

RACIAL JUSTICE TRAINING

ONLINE WORKSHOPS

Racial justice training for all active ministry personnel was mandated at the 39th General Council 2006, following a request by Hamilton Conference. The proposal came out of a long history of the United Church's engagement with issues of social justice.

These online workshops have been designed for those who could not participate in one of last year's traditional-style workshops.

MAY 5 & 12, 2012

NOON TO 2:00 P.M.

The Online Process:

- will use Internet and phone technology to simulate a face-to-face workshop
 - participants can use an ordinary telephone
 - participants will need to use an Internet browser
- system is specially designed to allow for break-out groups
 - much of the work will be in small group discussions
- you will connect to the conference call via a toll-free long distance number
